

Acknowledgements

This history and story would not have been possible without the special help and support of my wife and best friend Betty, and our dear friends - Jessie Healey and the late Eric Kingdon in particular, whose contribution was just phenomenal. We will all of us miss him.

Many people helped and contributed in some way or other and again, of particular and special assistance, were Norm Godfrey, Garth and Lindy Wilson, Tina Smith, Jessie and Tom of course, and staff of the Dept of Environment and Conservation Karlene Bain, Jenny , Clive Burden, Chris Hart, the lovely people at the Denmark Bulletin et al (I could go on for ever!)

Everyone has been so helpful with information, recollections and photographs and I hope I have acknowledged them fully. Photos not acknowledged are the author's, taken over many years at William Bay.

Gordon Harris
32/12 Hardy Street
DENMARK
WA 6333 'phone: (08) 9892 3032

Bibliography

Megaliths and Memories Thesis	Vanessa Chapman (2002)
WBNPA Newsletters	William Bay National Parks Association(1996-2010)
Australian Encyclopaedia	Australian Geographic Society 1996
The National Parks of Western Australia	C F H Jenkins 1880
Scenic Wonders of Australia	Readers Digest 1976
The Discovery and Exploration of Australia	Feeken, Feeken and Spate 1970
Letters from Eric Kingdon	Eric Kingdon, North Dandalup and of the Kingdon Family who were pioneers in Denmark in the early 1900s
Department of Environment And Conservation	Nature Base National Parks Topography and Geology. Also DEC pamphlets
Australian Seashores	Isobel Bennett AO,MSc
My Dusky Friends	Ethel Hassell.
The New Australia	Colin Simpson
Carpet of Silver	Phillip Playford
Scenic Wonders of Australia	Readers Digest
Atlas of the World	National Geographic
NGULAK NGARNK NIDJA BOODJA (my mother, this country)	Centre Indigenous Arts
Voyage of Discovery To Terra Australis	Phillip Playford
Koorabup quarterly journals	Denmark Historical Society inc.

Gordon Harris and Jessie Healey are both Members of the William Bay National Parks Association Inc., of which Gordon was a founding Member. They have been family friends for about thirty years, having been regular swimmers at Port Beach, Fremantle, when they lived in Perth.

Both Jessie and Gordon have been involved with a number of Groups in and around Denmark as Volunteers, including the Denmark Historical Society and the Denmark Environment Centre.

